Kaluzhskaya Region Governor Visiting Tashir

On the 10th of April this year Anatoly Artamonov, governor of Kaluzhskaya region, visited manufacturing facilities of Tashir (brick production plants) in Vorotynsk as part of his business trip.

The brick production plants, belonging to OAO Stroyppolymerkeramika, are some of the biggest in the region; their annual production capacity amounts to approximately 100 million bricks. The governor appreciated the plant's state-of-the-art equipment and technologies aimed at increasing production capacity as well as improving working conditions; he also commented on the high quality of the products.

The whole brick production plant in Vorotynsk village (Kaluzhskaya region) has been operating since 1946. Today Stroyppolymerkeramika plants produce over ten kinds of high-grade bricks. The majority of products are sold in the Central and North-Western regions, in the Altai territory, and in the CIS countries.
